

Christina Homrighouse
christina.homrighouse@gmail.com

Experience

- Cornell University June 1989 – present
- College of Human Ecology August 2018 – present
Lecturer, Policy Analysis and Management, Desktop Modeling and Solutions PAM 5679
- School of Hotel Administration January 2012 – present
Senior Lecturer, Operations, Technology and Information Management, Business Computing HADM 1740/2740
- School of Industrial and Labor Relations August 1998 – present
Senior Lecturer, Department of Human Resources Studies and Lab Manager, Technology Services
- Promoted from Lecturer to Senior Lecturer, Spring 2013.
 - Teach hands-on (and remotely as necessary) software application courses: Essential Desktop Applications (MS Office, 220+ students); Advanced Desktop Applications (MS Office, 40+ students) and formerly Expert Desktop Applications (30+ students) and Introduction to Human Resource Information Systems (Access, PeopleSoft).
 - Incorporated Microsoft Office Specialist (MOS) certification into curriculum by creating a certified testing center, achieved over 90% pass rates within first semester, and placed at least one student in New York state and worldwide MOS championship status since program inception.
 - Create and update all lecture notes, tests, quizzes and projects.
 - Maintain course web sites via Canvas technologies and beta test new services.
 - Consistently ranked above average on student evaluations.
 - Act as faculty advisor for students participating in the Credit Internship Program.
 - Hire, train, schedule and supervise 10-12 student computer lab consultants.
 - Provide desktop support services and training to faculty and staff in coordination with Technology Services.
 - Received Faculty Appreciation Award from Cornell Greek Community (2008) and Honorary Member of Golden Key International Honor Society; nominated for ILR Teaching Award (2011); named “Cornell’s #1 Professor” by Business Insider.com (2013).
- Career Advisor, Office of Career Services* August 2006 – May 2011
- Critiqued career-related documents, performed mock interviews and counseled students regarding career management decisions.
 - Assisted Director and Associate Director with various projects including placement statistics and provided technical support.
- Johnson Graduate School of Management February 1996 – October 2020
Lecturer, Managerial Skills Program
- Teach MBA-level courses in Excel, PowerPoint, HTML and presentation skills; consistently ranked among top two lecturers.
- Assistant Director, Recruiting and Operations, Career Services Office* February 1996 – June 1998
- Managed recruiting operations for over 120 companies and 500 students.
 - Ranked in the top five best recruiting offices in Business Week’s “Best Business Schools” 1998 issue.
 - Received first “Staff Recognition Award” for outstanding performance and collaborative efforts.
- Technical Consultant/Advisor II, Computing Services* October 1995 – February 1996
Technical Consultant/Advisor I, Computing Services March 1993 – October 1995
- Promoted from Technical Consultant/Advisor I position.
 - Acted as liaison and project manager for faculty relationships.
 - Provided front-line technical desktop support to faculty, staff and students.
 - Coordinated all aspects of computer training programs. Delivered orientation program for 250+ incoming students.
 - Managed two computer labs comprised of 35+ machines running the Mac OS and Windows. Hired, trained and supervised 20 student computer consultants. Developed and documented lab policies and procedures.

Education

- Cornell University, School of Industrial and Labor Relations, Ithaca, NY May 2015
Master of Industrial and Labor Relations
- Ithaca College, Ithaca, NY May 1989
Bachelor of Science, Psychology and Business