Academic & Administrative Appointments

S.C. Johnson Graduate School of Management Cornell University

Ithaca, New York, USA, 14853-6201

Professor of Practice (July 2023 – present)

Visiting Senior Lecturer (July 2020 – June 2023)

Associate Dean for Executive Education (July 2011 - June 2012)

Assistant Dean for Executive Education (July 2010 - June 2011)

Director, Cornell-Queen's Executive MBA (September 2004 - February 2011)

Senior Lecturer of Accounting (September 2004 - December 2012)

My current activities include (2020-present):

- Teaching financial accounting in:
 - Executive MBA Americas program
 - Executive MBA / MS in Healthcare Leadership program
 - Business minor undergraduate program for the Dyson School
 - Business minor undergraduate program for the Nolan School of Hotel Administration
- Teaching managerial accounting and reporting in:
 - Executive MBA Metro New York City program
 - Executive MBA / MS in Healthcare Leadership program
 - Residential MBA program (main campus)
 - Residential New York Tech MBA program
 - Residential MPS program (main campus)
- Teaching combined accounting and financial decision-making in:
 - Residential graduate programs elective (main campus)

As Assistant/Associate Dean for Executive Education my responsibilities included (2010-2012):

- Over-arching responsibility for all executive education programs at the S.C. Johnson Graduate School of Management at Cornell University, collectively over $23M of annual tuition revenue
- Redesigned the organizational structure for the Executive Education group: hired new Directors for each of the Executive MBA programs and enlarged the overall staff size to 14,
- Responsible for the executive education admissions, recruiting, and marketing efforts and its $2M annual budget,
- Played a leading role in the efforts to expand the Cornell-Queen's Executive MBA program to Latin America.

As the founding Director of the EMBA Americas program (Note: from 2004-2013 this program was named the Cornell-Queen's Executive MBA program) my responsibilities included:

- Designed and executed the program's strategy; held lead responsibility for researching and identifying new regions for expansion; held lead responsibility for design of a national marketing campaign to attract qualified participants (Note: With the 2012 the program had reached enrollment of more than 120 participants in the US and more than 50 in Canada – generating over $12M for Cornell in revenue from this group),
- Conducted hundreds of recruiting events in 17 targeted cities across the US,
- Fulfilled a leading role in the curriculum design for the program,
- Acted as head liaison to manage the international partnership relationship with Queen's University Smith School of Business (Note: this partnership represents the most integrated relationship between business schools today with respect to the operation of jointly-offered MBA programs),
- Recruited, hired, and trained the program staff (Note: the staff of the Cornell-Queen's Executive MBA program won the 2007 Johnson School Staff Recognition Award, an unprecedented accomplishment for a team that had been in operations for less than three years),
- Oversaw the design and construction of a state-of-the-art broadcast studio,
- Managed the process of state accreditation to facilitate program expansion in: NY, CA, OH, OR, WA, DC, GA, NH, and TX,
- Oversaw the design and implementation of a training process for faculty to become expert at videoconferencing-based course delivery (Note: the nature of this technology-facilitated program meant that significant new infrastructure and pedagogy must be developed and implemented at Cornell),
- Led or contributed to the design of "high touch" student support services including: admissions process, residential event planning, career support programs,
- Acted in a key role in the investigation of using this learning model to launch an overseas-based Executive MBA program.

School of Professional Programs

Marist College

3399 North Road, Poughkeepsie, NY 12601

Assistant Vice President for Academic Affairs (January 2016 to July 2020)

Professor of Accounting (January 2016 to July 2020)

- I led a staff 10 administrators who roles cover activities such as: student services, advising, Life Work Credit review, internships review, Summer Pre-College Programs operations, Center for Lifetime Studies, and other forms of program support.
- The School's programs involve 30-40 faculty members each year combining both full-time and adjunct faculty members.
- Focused on updating, revising, and expanding the portfolio of programs offered to adult learners and on enhancing the services provided to these students:

- Expanded to six start dates per year,
 - Existing major renamed “Professional Studies” in order to provide more effective market positioning and developed five career-related concentrations,
 - Developed 14 new “stackable” online digital badge micro-credentials,
 - Developed new degree completion major called “Management Studies” accessible in both a 100% online format as well as a “blended” format,
 - Developed 3 new career-focus minors were developed in late 2019,
 - Developed 4 dual-degree pathways leading to accelerated graduate degrees for students in adult undergraduate degree completion majors.
- Beginning in 2017, I re-established an Advisory Board for the School of Professional Programs, engaging with business leaders in the Hudson Valley and beyond.

Strayer University

2303 Dulles Station Boulevard, Herndon, Virginia, USA 20171

Dean of Executive Education (November 2013 to December 2015)

Dean & Vice Provost (June 2012 to November 2013)

As Dean, my responsibilities included:

- Hiring a team of Associate Deans with the following portfolios: faculty, administration, and instructional design,
- Attracting, selecting, developing, assessing, and retaining a strong faculty team,
- Leading the curriculum redesign and renewal process,
- Leading development of cutting-edge student support process for online education,
- Engaging in many profile-raising presentations and events,
- Being the main spokesperson for JWMI with the press,
- Leading international negotiations for school-to-school partnerships
- Leading an academic staff of approximately 6 administrators.

As Dean for Executive Education, my responsibilities included:

- The development of non-degree executive programs and management training programs under the Welch Way brand in various formats (in online, on-ground, and hybrid formats),
- Working with employers on customized programs, including a partnership to launch a corporate university.
